

PALOMA CANDLE HOLDER

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

The PALOMA Candle Holders reinterpret the ritual of light through a sculptural lens. A series of stacked forms that explore balance, rhythm, and contrast. Designed as both functional candleholders and sculptural art pieces, each composition fuses stone, resin, wood, and metal into an architectural totem that feels timeless and tactile.

The interplay of materials from honed travertine to polished metal and blush resin, evokes a dialogue between earth and reflection, tradition and modernity. Whether placed individually or as a trio, Sierra stands as a quiet yet powerful statement of form and emotion, a true embodiment of the INVERTI philosophy.

MATERIALS & FINISHES

The candle holder features a base in travertine, marble, or limestone with a honed matte finish, providing a solid and elegant foundation. The middle section is crafted in resin with a glossy Blush Rose finish, customizable in other tones. A wood element in solid walnut or oak with a satin open-pore finish adds warmth, while a striped detail of marble with metal inlay introduces alternating honed and polished stripes. The candle insert is available in polished stainless steel or brass, with either mirror or brushed finishes, completing the refined and layered material composition.

THE INVERTI EFFECT

The Paloma Candle Holders embody The INVERTI Effect, evolving from functional object to pure sculpture.

- In BOLD form, the polished metal and blush resin create luminous contrast, reflecting light and transforming the candle into a focal point.
- In SOFT form, natural stone and wood bring calm tactility, allowing the piece to blend seamlessly into serene environments.

This versatility allows Sierra to shift its identity from centerpiece to quiet accent while maintaining its sculptural essence.
